

The Sanctions Discourse: Agenda Setting and Structural Constraints (2000–2008)

Aaron Rwodzi

Abstract

This chapter focuses on sanctions, both political and economic, comprehensive or limited, and seeks to interrogate their effectiveness in achieving the intended goals of the Western countries who imposed them.